

CORMORANT

SOCIAL WORK

Intimate Partner Violence

ISBN 978-1-896951-90-4 200pp $24.95

Intimate Partner Violence is a collection of nine essays by outstanding academics, scholars, and practitioners dealing with domestic violence. An excellent resource for social workers, therapists, psychologists, healthcare providers, front-line workers, policymakers, and lobbyists, the subjects covered include: the formation and application of policy; the impact of policy on victim of violence and anti-violence works; myths about women abused by intimate partners; the nature and impact of abuse; understanding and defining domestic violence; and harm reduction and abused women's safety.

What's Law Got To Do With It?

ISBN 978-1-897151-29-7 300pp $24.95

What's Law Got To Do With It? examines changes in the Canadian justice system from the introduction of protection order legislation, to family law, to changes in criminal court procedures. From the Yukon to downtown Toronto, specialized domestic violence courts are exploring new strategies to aid victims and hold perpetrators accountable. In What's Law Got To Do With It? we learn from the perspective of prosecutors, victims, and researchers of the efficacy of these changes in the justice system.

215 Spadina Avenue, Studio 230, Toronto, ON, Canada M5T 2C7
T: 416.929.4957 | F: 416.929.3596 | www.cormorantbooks.com
c.leroux@cormorantbooks.com

WHERE IMAGINATION TAKES FLIGHT

